THE WARREN COMMISSION

Why We Still Don't Believe It

Above: Jack Ruby, gun drawn, about to kill Lee Harvey Oswald. Right: Chief Justice Earl Warren handing his commission's report to President Lyndon B. Johnson on Sept. 24, 1964. Other members of the panel, from the left: John J. McCloy; J. Lee Rankin, counsel; Richard B. Russell, Gerald R. Ford, Allen W. Dulles, John Sherman Cooper and Hale Boggs.

By David W. Belin

HE TRUTH IS that Lee Harvey Oswald was the lone gunman who murdered President John F. Kennedy and Dallas Police Officer J. D. Tippit on that tragic Friday afternoon, Nov. 22, 1963, in Dallas. Yet 25 years after the event, a majority of the American public does not believe the truth. Rather, polis have shown that most Americans believe President Kennedy was assassinated as an outgrowth of a conspiracy.

outgrowth of a conspiracy. Over the years, conspiracy theories have ebbed and flowed. During the late 1960's, claims focused on an alleged conspiracy by so-called right-wing conservatives. In the 1970's, the conspiracy buffs concentrated on the Central Intelligence Agency. More recently, the dominant theme has been that the Mafia was in some way involved, with Jack Ruby as the "hit man." A common effect of many of these allegations has been to tarnish the name of the late Chief Justice Earl Warren and to create the conviction that the Warren Commission was a "blue ribbon cover-up."

COVET-UP."

Having served as counsel to the Warren Commission investigating the assassination of President Kennedy, and as executive director of the Rockefeller Commission investigating the C.L.A., in which capacity I had access to all C.L.A. files relating to the Kennedy assassination, I know that the right-wing conspiracy theories, the C.L.A. conspiracy theories are pure fiction. Why are they believed by a majority of the American public? How can it be that an investigation headed by Earl Warren — a man whose in-

David W. Belin, a senior partner in the Des Moines law firm of Belin Harris Helmick Tesdell Lamson McCormick, was counsel to the Warren Commission. He adapted this article from "Final Disclosure: The Full Truth About the Assassination of President Kennedy," to be published this month.

COPYRIGHT © 1988 DAVIO W. BELIN

BREATHE SPRING IN SAPPORO.

CALL JAPAN. 95¢ A MINUT

To find out more about calling overseas, call 1 800 874-4000 Ext. 112. Go ahead. Reach out and touch someone.

Economy Discount Standard 3am-2pm 8pm-3am 2pm-8pm $.95 $ 1.20 $ 1.58 ERAGE COST PER MINUTE FOR A 10-MINUTE CALL® cost per minute varies depending on the length of the call. First in tost less. All prices are for calls dialed direct from anywhere in the con-d 3% federal sense its and production state as progresses. (A) 1988-1971 tegrity was above reproach has failed to gain the public's confidence?

The easy answer is that there is a general mystique about conspiracy — a mys-tique encouraged by the shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald by Jack Ruby on Nov. 24, 1963. In fact, when I first went to Washington to serve as counsel to the Warren Commission, I felt that the killing of Oswald by Ruby, a man with underworld connections, might have been some sort of a "hit" ordered to silence the President's assas-

Of course, common sense would dictate otherwise; as a practical matter, so-called Mafia "hit men" do not choose an area where they are surrounded by the police are surrounded by the police and immediately apprehended. But apart from this, exhaustive investigation by the Warren Commission proved that Jack Ruby was not conspiratorially involved. Not only was this finding corroborated by a polygraph exam taken by Ruby, at his own request and against the advice of his lawyers, but a happenstance independently confirmed this conclusion.

Oswald was scheduled to be transferred from the city iail.

Oswald was scheduled to be transferred from the city jail, in the police station, to the county jail several hlocks away shortly after IO A.M. on Sunday, Nov. 24. Before the transfer, he was to undergo the third of a series of interpretations by Contr. I. Will. rogations by Capt. J. Will Fritz, head of the homicide section of the Dalias Police Department, and representa-tives of the Secret Service and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

If no one else had joined the ir no one else had joined the group, Oswald would have been transferred long before Jack Ruby ever got down-town. But at the last minute, Postal Inspector Harry D. Holmes — who had helped trace the money order Os-wald used to purchase the rifle with which he killed President Kennedy -- joined

The Wild wind in kinder of the group.

Holmes told the Warren Commission: "I had been in and out of Captain Fritz's office on numerous occasions during this two-and-a-half-dayperiod.

"On this morning I had no appointment. I actually started to church with my wife. I got to church and I said, "You get out, I am going down and see if I can do something for Captain Fritz."

"So I drove directly on down to the police station and walked in, and as I did, Cap-walked in, and as I did, Cap-tain Fritz motioned to me and said, 'We are getting ready to have a last interrogation with Oswald before we transfer him to the county jail. Would you like to join us?'

you like to join us?'
"I said, 'I would.'"
Holmes's inclusion extended the interrogation hy at least half an hour.

least half an hour.
Ruby shot Oswald at 11:21
A.M., approximately five minutes after Ruby left the nearby Western Union office, where at 11:17 A.M. he had wired funds to one of his mightcub employees. Had Holmes continued on to church with his wife that morning, Jack Ruby would never have had the opportunity to kill Oswald.
Nevertheless, many of the television shows being shown his November, as well as "Libra," the recent "historical novel" by Don DeLillo; and recent "monifiction" books — in-cent "nonfiction" books — in-cluding "Contract on Amer-ica," by David Scheim, and "The Plot to Kill the Presiica," by David Scheim, and "The Plot to Kill the President," by G. Robert Blakey—all focus on Jack Ruby's alleged role as the Mafia hit man who killed Oswald.

At first hlush, it's easy to cast the blame on this group, whom I call the assassination sensationalists, for deceiving the American puhilic. Yet I do not believe they are primarily to hlame. Rather, I believe that if there is a dominant reason why the Warren commission Report has not been accepted by a majority of Americans, it is because all our investigative work was undertaken in secret. It was far easier to work without the presence of the press. Yet if there had been open hearings, people could press. Yet if there had been open hearings, people could have watched on television, heard on radio and read in the newspapers what the key witnesses said as the investigation unfolded. By the fail of 1964, when most of the testimony and exhibits were published in the 26 volumes of the Warren Commission Report, the potential impact of deliv lished in the 26 volumes of the Warren Commission Report, the potential impact of daily reporting had been lost.

If the public had heen included at the time, there would be little question, for instance, of whether the shots were fired solely from the southeast corner sixth-floor window of the Texas School Book Depository Building — which happens to be the fact — or also from an area known as the "grassy knoll." People would have heard the testimony of Howard Leslie Brennan, a 45-year-old steamfitter, who was sitting on a retaining wall across the street from the Book Depository and was looking around while he waited for the motorcade to arrive. And they would have learned that this testimony was corroborated by ballistics findings.

Brennan "observed quite a few people in different windows. In particular, I saw this one man on the sixth floor which left the window to my knowledge a couple of times."

Brennan then turned his attention to the approaching Presidential limousine. He watched it turn left at the cor-ner in front of him and then go southwest along Elm and down an incline toward the freeway entrance and a rail-road underpass. "And after the President had passed my position, I really couldn't say how many feet or how far, a short distance I would say, I heard this crack that I positively thought was a backfire." Belin: "Then what did you observe or hear?"

Brennan: "Well, then something, just right after this ex-plosion, made me think that it was a firecracker being thrown from the Texas Book Store. And I glanced up. And this man that I saw previous was aiming for his last shot. was aiming for its last should be couple of seconds. He drew the gun back from the window as though he was drawing it back to his side and maybe paused for another second as though to assure hisself that he hit his mark, and then he disappeared..." Ballistically, it was deter-mined that Oswald's rifle was mined that Oswald's rifle was the gun that fired all of the shots that struck President Kennedy and Texas Governor John Connally. Unfortunately, the public never had an opportunity to learn first hand how Oswald's rifle was found, how it was identified as the source of the builets and how Oswald was also identified as the killer of Officer Tippit.

cer Tippit.

The secrecy problems of the Warren Commission the Warren Commission were exacerbated by a very unfortunate decision made by Chief Justice Earl Warren at the request of the Kennedy family. The family persuaded the Chief Justice to withhold the X-ray and autopsy photo-graphs of President Kennedy from introduction into evi-dence as exhibits. Not only dence as exhibits. Not only was the commission deprived of seeing these documents first-hand, but the public was denied an opportunity to have them independently examined by anyone seeking to verify the conclusions of the automatical provisions who testiautopsy physicians who testi-fied before the Warren Commission.

The Warren Commission counsel with direct responsi-bility to interrogate these physicians was Arlen Spec-ter, now a United States Sena-ter, I, and almost all the other lawyers serving with the Warren Commission thought the decision was very inap-propriate, but Earl Warren, propriate, but Earl Warren, out of deference to the kennedy family, would not yield.

Subsequently, commission members Gerald R. Ford, later to become President, and John J. McCloy, the member with the broadest trial and corporate legal experience, agreed with our criticisms. In a letter to me in the mid-1970's, McCloy wrote:
"I agree wholeheartedly with your criticism of the commission itself for failure to demand the original commission itself for failure to demand the original X-rays and photographs... The argument against their being viewed by the commission as part of the record was that the X-rays and photographs of the President's body did not in themselves carry as much weight as the interpretation of them by the experts. This together with what I thought to be the oversensitivity of the Chief Justice to the attitude of the family, resulted in a good bit of just criticism of the commission which in my judgmission which in my judg-ment could have been avoid-ed..."

In 1975, when President

Ford appointed me executive director of the Rockefeller Commission, I was able to see these photographs and X-rays myself. We were investigating charges that the C.I.A. had been conspiratorially involved in the assassination and that shots had come from the front as well as from the rear of the motorcade. An independent panel of physicians helped to re-evaluate all the evidence. The photographs and X-rays were horrifying, but the showed beyond a reasonable doubt that all of the shots that struck Kennedy came from the rear; Governor Connally also was struck from the rear. Although the conclusions of the autopsy physicians who testified before the Warren Commission have been supported by every panel of physicians that has examined the materials since — an indematerials since — an inde-pendent panel appointed by Attorney General Ramsey Clark in 1968, the independent panel appointed by the Rockefeller Commission in 1975 and the panel appointed by the House Select Commit-tee on Assassinations in 1978 - the public is really not

RETAINLY! other important factor contributing to wide-spread disbelief of the Warren's Commission's findings

TOAST OXFORDSHIRE.

CALL ENGLAND.

To find out more about calling overseas, call 1 800 874-4000 Ext. 112. Go ahead. Reach out and touch someone.®

Economy Discount UNITED KINGDOM $.64 $.80 $1.06

Cuisinart Professional 14 DLC-7 Super Pro

$249

hen you need a pro in the kitckez call on Cuisinart— You know the quality of Cuisinart. The Professional 14 dec. work of several kitchen tools, replacing a blender, a mixer, a food mill and grater. Mixes heavy loads in record time. • Get a head start on your holiday gift giving. To order call (212) 496-1234 every day 9am to 4pm.

trust of our national Government, as an outgrowth of Vietnam, Watergate and revelations of misconduct by the C.I.A. The Rockefeller Commission, on which I served, uncovered a wide range of unlawful C.I.A. activities, including the opening of mail in direct violation of Federal statutes, unlawful spying on American citizens, assassination plots directed against foreign leaders in peacetime and the withhold-ing of evidence from the Warren Commission particular, evidence that the C.I.A. was engaged in assassination plots against Fidel Castro. This was relevant to the Warren Commission's work, because one of the key areas of investigation concerned whether Fidel Castro was in any way involved in the assassination of President Kennedy in response to the anti-Castro rhetoric and deeds of the Kennedy Administration, including sup-port for the Bay of Pigs operation. But another important reason why the Warren Commis-sion conclusions are not believed today relates to the 1976-78 investigation of the House Select Committee on Assassinations. In December 1978, the committee mem-bers were reviewing drafts of their report. After nearly two years' work and the expend-iture of $5.8 million, they had concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald, acting alone, had assassinated President Kennedy, wounded Governor Connally and killed Officer Tippit. There was no conspir-

later, a major flip-flop oc-curred. The 600-plus-page re-port was rejected, and on Dec. 29, 1978, a majority of the committee approved a seven-page "Summary of Findings and Recommenda-tions," which concluded that although Oswald was the assassin, there was a conspiracy involving an unseen sec-ond gunman. This invisible person supposedly fired a single shot from the elevated portion of land known as the grassy knoll, to the right front of the passing Presidential limousine. According to the committee summary, this shot missed Kennedy and everyone else, and even missed the President-ial limousine, barely 100 feet from the invisible gun-

The committee's abrunt turnabout was caused by the mid-December testimony of two acoustic experts, Mark Weiss and Ernest Aschkenasy. They said they were 95 percent certain that the oscil-lating waves on a Dictabelt recording of police channel communications from the Presidential motorcade indi-

Presidential motorcade indi-cated the presence of a sec-ond gunman firing a fourth shot from the grassy knoll. Members of the committee staff said the tape came from a microphone, stuck in the "on" position, attached to a motorcyte driven by Dellas motorcycle driven by Dallas Pobce Officer H. B. McLain.

Several members of the committee dissented from the summary, including Rep-resentative Harold S. Sawver, a Republican of Michigan. In his dissenting opin-ion, Representative Sawyer wrote that Officer McLain "together with other police officials located near the Presidential limousine at the time the shots were fired in Dealey Plaza all agree that sirens were activated, and motorcycles and other vehi-cles were subjected to emer-gency acceleration within not more than a few seconds following the shots' having been fired. No change in the rhythm or intensity of the motorcycle noise appears anywhere on the relevant Dictabelt. There is no audible sound even resembling sirens until a full two minutes following the last of what is interpreted by the acoustical experts as the

Three years later, the acoustical-evidence testimony was refuted in a 96page report by the committee on ballistic acoustics of the commission on physical sci-ences, mathematics and re-sources of the National Research Council. The commit-tee, headed by Norman F. Ramsey, Higgins Professor of Physics at Harvard, included other professors and representatives from corpo-rate research centers such as Bell Telephone Laboratories: Xerox and the International Business Machines Corpora-

In its executive summary, the committee stated: "The acoustical analyses do not demonstrate that there was a grassy knoll sbot. . . . The acoustic impulses attributed to gunshots were recorded about one minute after the President bad been shot and the motorcade bad been instructed to go to the hospital.

"Therefore, reliable acoustic data do not support a conclusion that there was a second gunman."

Nevertheless, the refuted

1978 acoustical evidence is still being cited as authority today in books accusing the Warren Commission of a cover-un.

with:

THE PUBLIC HAS IN some areas been misled, but in others it has simply ceased to remem-ber. Most Americans have forgotten about the murder of Officer Tippit, which took place at approximately 1:15 P.M. on Nov. 22, about 45 minutes after the assassina-tion of President Kennedy. Six eyewitnesses who saw the murder itself or saw the gunmurder itself or saw the gun-man fleeing the scene of the crime while be was reloading his pistol positively identified Lee Harvey Oswald as the killer. William W. Scoggins, a cab driver, typifies their testimo-ny. He was sitting in his cab ny. He was string in his cap around the corner from the murder scene. He saw Tippit stop his police car and get out, heard the shots and saw the policeman "grab his stomach and fall."

stomach and fall."

The gunman then passed within 12 feet of Scoggins: "I saw him coming kind of toward me...! could see his face, his features, and everything plain... kind of loping, trotting... He had a pistol in his left hand."

Oswald was arrested a chert time later after run.

short time later, after run-ning inside the Texas Theater, where be pulled out a con-cealed weapon as he was ap-proached by police officers. That revolver, ballistics evidence later showed, was the Tippit murder weapon.

The Tippit murder provided the essential link to the assassination. Oswald, it turned out, had purchased the revolver that killed Tippit through the mail under the same alias he had used to purchase the rifle he used to kill President Kennedy. Once these facts were established, all the other evidence came into clear perspective.

Yet Americans still have doubts, fueled by the specu-lations of assassination sensationalists. In his letter to me, John McCloy, the War-ren Commission member, wrote:

"I never cease to be amazed at the willingness of so much of the public to accept the statements of the charlatans and the sensation-alists rather than the facts and record. The media and the reviewers were really fatuous, if not worse, but what really astounded me was the doctrinaire approach which so many of our colleges and universities took toward the commission's conclusions.

... It was actually thought 'liberal' to be convinced 'liberal' that President Kennedy had been shot as a result of a conspiracy by a group of Texas millionaires or chauvinists and that it was quite 'illiberal' to think that he had been assassinated solely by a little 'punk' who perhaps had some personal Communistic leanings."

YET ANOTHER REASON WHY most Americans don't believe the Warren Commission Report is that our investigation involved hundreds of witnesses and thousands of exhib-its. As every experienced trial lawyer knows, natural inconsistencies arise within the testimony of different wit-nesses to an incident. This is particu-larly true of a sudden and traumatic

Even in mundane matters, the honest recollections of witnesses differ. James Jarman Jr., who worked every day with Lee Harvey Oswald, swore under oath that Oswald "never hardly worked in a shirt. He worked in a T-shirt." Troy Eugene West, who also worked with Oswald every day to the shirt of the sworked with Oswald every day to the swork of the sw every day, swore under oath, "I don't believe I ever seen him working in just a T-shirt. He worked in a shirt all right, but I never did see him

all right, but I never did see him work in a T-shirt."

One of the early, better-selling books contending that more than one gunman was involved relied heavily on the notion that President Kennedy had said after the first sbot, "My God, I am hit." The Warren Commission found that the first bullet had exited President Kennedy's throat and had struck Governor Compoly, who was struck Governor Compoly who was President Kennedy's throat and had struck Governor Connolly, who was sitting directly in front of him. But the opposing theory held that since the President had spoken after being hit, he couldn't have been wounded in the throat; the bullet, then, had taken a different path and Connolly had been struck by a different bullet, fired by a second gumman.

Certainly there was evidence to support the claim that President Kensuport the cla support the claim that President Kennedy spoke, for this is exactly what Secret Service Agent Roy H. Keller-man testified. He was riding in the front seat of the limousine.

Yet the author never told his readers what the other four passengers in ers what the other four passengers in the limousine remembered.

Sitting next to Kellerman was the driver, Secret Service Agent William R. Greer. Asked whether the President said anything after he was hit, Greer testified: "I never heard him say anything; never at any time did I hear him say anything."

There were three other witnesses in the limousine.

Governor Connally said: "He never

in the limousine.
Governor Connally said: "He never uttered a sound at all that I heard."
Mrs. Connally said: "He made no utterance, no cry."
Jacqueline Kennedy said: "I was looking this way, to the left, and heard these terrible noises. You know. And way husband never made any sound."

my husband never made any sound."

The key to understanding what really happened on Nov. 22, 1963, is first to recognize that the facts of the assassination are distillations of hunassassination are distillations of hundreds of recollections and pieces of physical evidence—any of which, ignoring the overoll record, could produce a persuasive conclusion, albeit a false one.

If the television networks were to give the same amount of time to the testimony of Brennan, Scoggins, Holmes and others that they have to wild speculations, I believe it would go a long way toward convincing the American public.

One of the reasons I care so much about the truth is that if we can be de-ceived on these issues, we can also be deceived by a small cadre of people about matters that are far more di-rectly related to the survival of our country — matters of war and peace. The Warren Commission analyzed

The warren commission analyzed all of the evidence, including that from witnesses who disagreed with one another. The overall record showed beyond a reasonable doubt that Lee Harvey Oswald, acting alone, killed President Kennedy and Officer Timit Officer Tippit.

Officer Tippit.

Any American who takes the time to examine the overall record will agree that the Warren Commission was right. Each and every attempt to prove otherwise can be refuted. The truth has a long fuse, and ultimately it prevails.

Kent: 12 mg. "tar," 0.9 mg. nicotine; Kent Golden Lights: 9 mg. "tar," 0.8 mg. nicotine; Kent III: 3 mg. "tar," 0.3 mg. nicotine; av. per cigarette, FTC Report Feb. 1985.

© Lorillard, Inc., U.S.A., 1988

ができるかです